FOREWORD

This is our life at C. H. S. as we have known and loved it: A composite picture of the whole --the work, the fun, the spirit, the life.

To those who have contributed their support through advertisements or helped in any way, we are truly grateful. Much credit is due to Mr. C. I. Cofield for the portraits and to Mr. Earl Murray for the other photographic work on this annual.

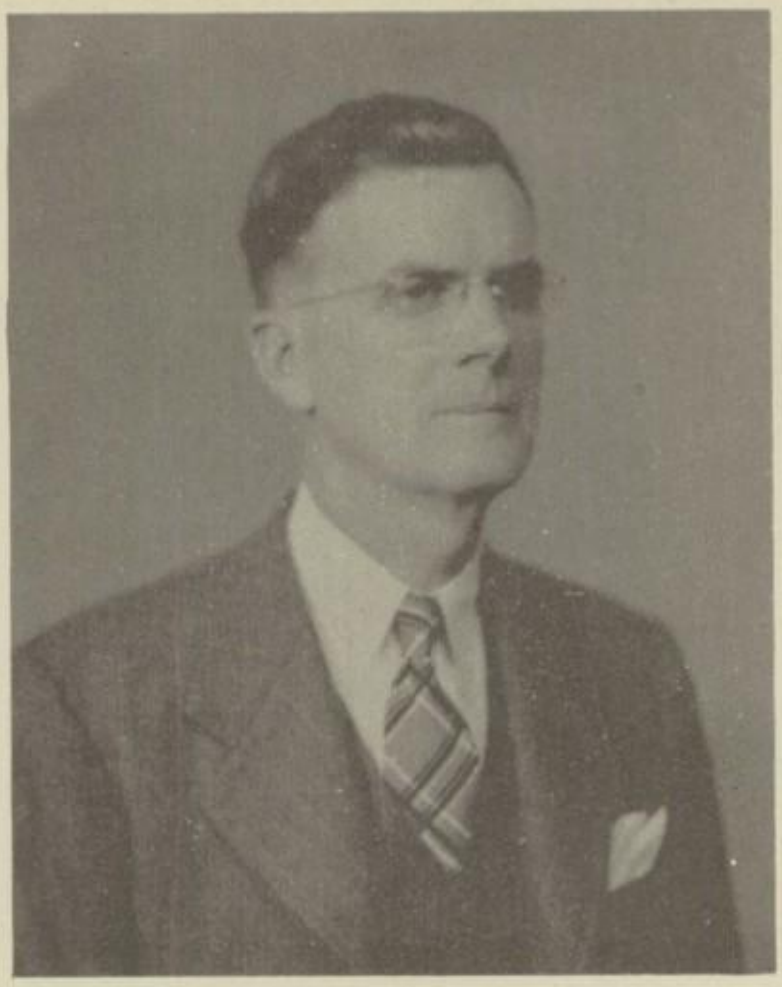
A DOUBLE DEDICATION

We, the Senior Class of '45, take pleasure in dedicating this, the third volume of the CARMINATRA, to the two who have done most to make C. H. S. what she is today. Because they have had a far-reaching influence in shaping the destiny of the school and the lives of its pupils; because they have given to us untiringly of their time and talents; they have become the symbol of the spirit of our school. So, to Supt. D. H. Standard and Miss Bettie Lou McKenzie we, the Senior Class of '45 dedicate this, our own CARMINATRA.

BETTIE LOU McKENZIE



D. H. STANDARD

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

I congratulate you on being willing to put forth the effort and to contribute the time which this undertaking has required. Your work is a distinct contribution to your school and will be a beautiful memorial for the class of 1945.

An annual, like all other worthwhile projects, tests the mettle of those responsible for its consumation. Such a contribution as your annual shows your superintendent and your friends just what you are capable of doing. May this same keen sense of responsibility follow you through the years, and may your life's ventures be equally as successful. I sincerely trust that a peaceful world awaits you, your ambutions, and your dreams.

Sincerely, your friend

D. H. Standard

CLASS POEM

"Watchman, what of the night?"
He asked ere break of day.
"Watchman, what of the night?"

"The morrow is on its way,"
Replied the watchman reassuringly,
"The morrow is on its way."

"Watchman, what do you mean by that?"
He asked as the sun came up.
"Watchman, what do you mean by that?"

"You must tell me. Now. Today."
The youth demanded in voice bold,
"You must tell me. Now. Today."

"Inquire! I can tell you that."
The watchman answered him.
"Inquire! I can tell you that."

The sun is up
The watchman's gone
The youth stands there, alone.

SENIORS--WINNERS OF INTRA-MURALS

Edmund Butler, Class President

WHAT THE INTRA-MURALS HAVE MEANT TO THE SCHOOL

Because of the unqualified benefit and pleasure derived from intra-murals last year, the student body and teachers have decided to make this an annual affair and when, after the war, C. H. S. again takes its part in the District Meet, to capitalize on it by selecting the winners as the representatives to the District, thus avoiding preliminary try-outs which involve only a few of the better pupils.

I know no brother, yet all men are my brothers; I am the father of the best that is in them, and they are the fathers of the best that is in me; I am of them and they are of me.

The Science Club

Realizing that the science classes could not cover all the desired fields of student research, Mr. D. W. Harper, the Science Instructor, organized our Science Club in January, and it has grown by leaps and bounds. It has afiliated with Science Clubs of America Washington, D. C. giving it all the benefits of any of the other five thousand clubs in America, including the opportunity of partaking in the Annual Science Talent Search competing in the $11,000.00 Scholarship prizes offered for the Best Student Scientists in the United States.

Out of the decision of the faculty to temporarily discontinue the publishing of the school paper "THE HUB" --- came the publication of the "Sideb usters." It is edited and published by a group of students untrained in journalism. yet ardent in th eir desire for some school voice.

Youth and THE REBUILDING OF A NEW WORLD

A WARTIME MESSAGE TO GRADUATES

Young American graduates have always regarded themselves as the rightful heirs to the luxuries and liberties of the world's richest civilization. But you of this year's class have had your eyes opened wide.

You are breathlessly watching the desperate struggle being waged by your fathers and brothers and their allies to save your world for you. And when they do hand it back to you—as they surely will—badly battered, poorer in substance, but still good earth for you to build upon, you will not accept their gift lightly.

You will appreciate the meaning of sacrifice. You will understand your obligation to make the world of the future a better world of permanent peace and justice.
